

The 4th International Law Congress of Youth

Istanbul-Turkey
21-22 April 2016

Global Citizenship: The Meaning of Citizenship from Young Perspective

We are pleased to announce that the International Law Congress of Youth 2016 (ILCY'16) will gather to welcome you for a youth conference to discuss 'Global Citizenship: The Meaning of Citizenship from Young Perspective'. The Congress will be held by Maltepe University Faculty of Law at Marma Congress Centre in Istanbul, Turkey on 21-22 April 2016.

The world faces global challenges, which have a broad range from public to private law, every day. As we take a glance at the scope of global issues, we realize the need for a concept of global citizenship in particular areas. With the development of technology and international communications, people started seeking some fundamental standards that they can meet regardless which State they are in. At this point, the idea of global citizenship arises to provide the pursuit of mankind about the issues in question.

The need for actions from perspective of youth, regarding how we think and act, will be the main step to broaden out visions for global solutions. In order to come up with these convincing global solutions, domestic law, international law, as well as the opinions of youth should be observed.

In light of the aforesaid, the 4th International Law Congress of Youth welcomes all students to attend and share their ideas according to the issues regarding global citizenship.

We welcome submissions for individual papers, media practice contributions (audio / video) and posters that should be addressing, but not limited to, the following topics:

- Rights of Refugees
- International Migration Law
- Nationality (e.g. Citizenship, Nation, Expatriate, Refugees, Statelessness, Active and Passive Citizens, Transnational Citizenship)
- Globalization and Industrialization
- The Development of Cultural, National and Global Identifications
- Sustainable Development
